About This Catalog

The German Studies Catalog of ProQuest microform contains approximately 100 research collections and over 1,300 serials. Inside you will find titles related to Literature, Art, Music, Drama, and Genealogy. This catalog also contains information on obtaining Dissertations on German Studies.

This catalog would be of particular interest to researchers in the fields of German Studies, Language & Literature, Women's Studies and History.

One pivotal collection from the catalog is, German Books before 1601. This collection contains over three thousand German, Swiss and Austrian printed books from the 15th and 16th centuries. For libraries looking to enhance their serials on microform, Amtsblatt der Europäischen Union, (Official Journal, German Edition) would make an excellent addition to any library. From Legislative decisions to committee resolutions, The Official Journal of the European Union allows users to study the history and expansion of the European Union, as well as access the full record of the Union's dialogue with other world bodies

This preface provides a glimpse into the contents of the German Studies Catalog of ProQuest microform. Feel free to browse through our titles, or if you are looking for a particular research collection, please consult the index in the back. If you have any questions regarding any of our titles, please contact your ProQuest representative at umisalesinfo@proquest.com, 800.521.0600 ext. 2793 or 734.761.4700 ext. 2793.

If you would like additional copies of this or any of our ProQuest Microform Catalogs, you may either make photocopies of the catalogs or contact your ProQuest representative to have printed copies mailed directly to you.

The Advantages of Microform

Despite the continually developing array of digital technologies—and sometimes because of it—information professionals at libraries and universities worldwide still rely on microform. They know it is an archival medium that will meet the needs of researchers for years to come. Microform provides many advantages including:

- New Viewer/Scanners - Images can now be easily sent to remote locations using microform viewer/scanners, which link to your computer workstations, letting you view and print articles or digitize and transmit them electronically (within Fair Use guidelines). This approach combines the unparalleled preservation and storage benefits of microform with the speed and ease of electronic access.
- Special Collections - Microform is the answer if you need hard-to-find or specialty resources. Many older newspapers and periodicals are available only in microform, and it gives your users access to complete page images from historical titles—often from the first issue forward.
- Space Savings - Microform lets you store an extensive collection of complete article images in a small amount of space. Microform takes up less than one-tenth the area of bound copies of newspapers and periodicals.
- Ownership - There is no upkeep or access fees. It uses stable, proven technology you already have, with no need for new workstations or continual software upgrades.
- Clarity and Accuracy - Microform is the answer if you need cover-to-cover clarity and accuracy. Full-image articles are essential to getting the full story.
- Complete Collection - Microform usually is the best solution if you need a complete collection fast. Maybe you're seeking accreditation or even rebuilding after a disaster. An extensive, customized collection of retrospective and current microform titles will meet the needs of your researchers quickly and efficiently.
- Support for Specialized Studies - A compact collection in microform will meet specialized research needs and still leave plenty of resources for the rest of your population. Many libraries also use microform as an added point of access for content that is most in demand.
- Durability - archived properly, it can last for generations, and there is no degradation of images.
- ProQuest Quality - ProQuest's microform images are taken directly from the original printed pages, so you always get the clarity of first-generation copies.

ProQuest Microform is the answer because we've been producing it since 1938. We not only exceed industry standards, we set them. Our microform products include thousands of newspapers and periodicals, and hundreds of research collections, many of which are not available from any other source.

German Books Before 1601

1440 - 1600

OmniSys World Literature Collections (OWL)

This comprehensive collection of over three thousand German, Swiss and Austrian printed books from the 15th and 16th centuries is available on 35mm microfilm. Based in part on the Short-Title Catalogue of Books Printed in the German-Speaking Countries and German Books Printed in Other Countries from 1455 to 1600 Now in the British Museum (1962), this continuing series includes many rare texts. Scholars will find important material on the Reformation, folk literature in the vernacular and a wealth of other material on German culture, history and religion. Students of the history of printing and publishing will find incunabula and 16th century imprints from both famous printing centers and little-known presses. Highlights of the collection include:

- Fragments from Gutenberg's 42-line Bible, Fust and Schöffer's Bible of 1462 and the 1460 Catholicon by Johann Balbus attributed to Gutenberg
- 30- and 31-line indulgences of 1455
- Books printed by Johann Zainer (the first printer in Ulm) and Günther Zainer (a Strasbourg and Augsburg printer)
- Anton Koberger's Bibles
- Peter Schöffer's most famous works - the Hortus Sanitatis, an herbal in German (1485) and Chronik der Sachsen (1492), both extensively illustrated with woodcuts
- Fiol's Czasoslowec, printed in 1491 in Kraków
- Numerous works by Martin Luther, including his translation of the New Testament into German
- Books printed in Basel by the renowned publisher of humanist literature Johann Froben (with Erasmus as his editor and the young Hans Holbein as a decorator-illustrator)
- De Historia Stirpium, a large botanical work by Leonhard Fuchs, printed by Michael Isengrim in 1543

The books have been filmed over the years from the extensive collections of the Bodleian Library at Oxford University, Uppsala universitetsbibliotek, Bayerische Staatsbibliothek, Biblioteca Apostolica Vaticana and many other libraries.

The Historical Records of the High Authority of the European Coal and Steel Community

1952 - 1967

'These records will enable researchers to approach the vital subject of European integration with all the thoroughness it deserves.'

~ Professor Dr Walter Lippens, University of Saarbrücken

One of the most significant events in post-war Europe was the formation of the European Coal and Steel Community (ECSC). By 1950 there were agreements on tariffs and trade (GATT), on economic co-operation (OEEC) and on defence (NATO). The United States of America however urged increased unity and strongly advised the European states to remove the barriers that restricted trade between them. France and Germany realised the need to end their historic rivalry and recognised that "nationality", in Lord Acton's words, was "the most subversive doctrine in history". "The French Government proposes to place Franco-German production of coal and steel under a common 'High Authority' ... By pooling basic production and by setting up a new High Authority whose decisions will be binding on France, Germany and other member countries, this proposal will build the first concrete foundation of the European Federation which is indispensable to the preservation of peace." On 9 May 1950, Robert Schuman made his momentous declaration and put forward his plan for a common High Authority. Two years later the European Coal and Steel Community was established and it became the cornerstone of European development and co-operation. The records of the ECSC, now made freely available under the 30-year rule, are crucial for a full understanding of post-war European integration. The microfiche document set for 1952-1956 was published in 1991. The document set for 1957-1961 is now made universally available. It will be followed by issues of sets of ECSC documents for later periods and by the historical records of the EEC and EURATOM and now includes content from 1962-1967 as well. The records illuminate:

- Origin and development of the ECSC
- ECSC links with other European movements and organizations
- External relations, particularly with reference to the United Kingdom and the United States of America
- The common economic, commercial, energy and security policies
- Creation and expansion of the Common Market for coal and steel
- Origins and evolution of Social Policy in the ECSC
- Integration of European municipalities
- The role of figures such as Jean Monnet, Konrad Adenauer, Robert Schuman, Alcide de Gasperi, Jean Rey, Anthony Eden, Walter Hallstein

The microfiche are accompanied by printed indexes; An index of the files and documents in the thematic groups (CEAB 1 to 15). Each entry includes the serial deposit number, a summary description, the microfiche number, and the dates covered; Also provided is the original Universal Decimal Classification (UDC) of each file and a list of UDC classifications; A keyword index comprising a complete alphabetical permutation of the keywords in each entry (up to five) referenced to the record group and microfiche numbers

The Kaiser in Exile: The Archive of the Former Kaiser Wilhelm II of Germany During his Stay in The Netherlands*

1918 - 1941

This fascinating collection of materials is comprised of the archive of former Kaiser Wilhelm II of Germany during his exile in The Netherlands from 1918-1941. The desire of the Kaiser to return to Germany as monarch is a recurring theme in these papers. The papers also shed light on the Kaiser's ambivalent feelings about the Nazi Party. Included is a great deal of correspondence with political, military, cultural and religious figures of the time, as well as with royal and noble families. This collection also includes the Kaiser's personal collection of WWI military operations maps.

The National Security Archive

1939 - Present

'All of us who have a professional interest in contemporary security and foreign policy issues can only rejoice at the appearance of this new institutional resource.'

~ Gary Sick, Adjunct Professor of Middle East Politics, Columbia University

Previously classified documents on major foreign policy issues from the State Department and other federal agencies arranged by subject set on microfiche. For several years the National Security Archive, a non-profit research institute, has been working to locate, have declassified, organize and index government documents on key areas of U.S. policymaking. Through systematic document searching, sophisticated use of the Freedom of Information Act and computer based cataloging, the Archive has developed an unmatched collection of primary materials indispensable for research and public debate.

A comprehensive record of the making of U.S. policy toward Berlin and West Germany. It contains over 2,900 documents totaling over 11,500 pages, many of them only recently declassified and available here for the first time. Central to the collection are documents dating from November 1958 to the autumn of 1962 which enable researchers to follow U.S. policy development on a day-to-day basis, discovering the interrelations between U.S. diplomatic and military policy over the course of the crises. The collection also includes a few documents dating from late 1953, when the Eisenhower administration began to formulate its Berlin contingency plan and closes in the late 1960s with a series of newly declassified State Department histories.

Philanthropinum Dessau Nachlaß und Drucke (Estate and Prints)*

1774 - 1793

In 1774 Johann Bernhard Basedow opened a new school in Dessau, the "School of the Philanthropist". Supported by the enlightened Prince Leopold Friedrich Franz from Anhalt-Dessau, the school was unusual in many ways. First and foremost, it was independent of the Church. In addition, the curriculum was new (focusing on modern languages and natural sciences). Finally, the method of instruction was novel: Basedow believed that learning should be fun and should prepare students for their future lives. Consequently, practical and useful subjects, rather than theoretical, abstract subjects, were taught. Soon the Philanthropinum was respected far outside the borders of Dessau. Unfortunately, the school finally closed its doors in 1793 when the student body substantially decreased. However, the educational approach propounded by the school led to the establishment of further model schools and ultimately the Philanthropinum's approach had a profound influence on educational theory. This microfiche edition includes the collected papers and documents of the school, a collection taken over in the 1920s by the Landesbücherei Dessau. It is published together with the publications of leading philanthropists.

Genealogy

Heraldic & Genealogical Manuscripts of the 16th & 17th Centuries at Lambeth Palace Library

1501 - 1700

Lambeth Palace Library is the historic library of the archbishops of Canterbury and the principal library and record office for the history of the Church of England. The Library was founded as a public library by Archbishop Bancroft in 1610. The Library focuses on ecclesiastical history, but its rich collections are important for an immense variety of topics, from the history of art and architecture to colonial and Commonwealth history, and for innumerable aspects of English social, political, and economic history. It is also a significant resource for local history and genealogy. This unique collection of 24 manuscripts include armorials of English, Scottish, French, German, Italian, Dutch, Portuguese, and Spanish families, together with pedigrees of many noble European families.

Society of Antiquaries of London Heraldic Manuscripts

1301 - 1800

Founded in 1717, the Society of Antiquaries of London received its Royal Charter from King George II in 1751, making it the second oldest of the Royal Societies. Heraldic studies have always been among the Society's interests and many members of the College of Arms have been and are numbered among the fellowship. By 1816, the Society already owned several important heraldic books and rolls, including the 15th century copy of Charles' Roll (now MS.517), the miscellany MS.136 and several others, including the Illyrian armorial c.1600, a finely painted major source for early Balkan heraldry. The holdings of continental heraldry were greatly increased when Sir Augustus Wollaston Franks bequeathed his library to the Society at the end of the 19th century. Further important acquisitions, mainly English rolls and books, were made in the 20th century, the most important being the greater part of the collection of heraldic material made by Dugdale and others in 1641. The collection contains a special selection of volumes and rolls totaling 36 items with many thousands of coats of arms covering a 500-year period. Among them are the arms of Austrian, Bosnian, Croatian, Dalmatian, English, German, Serbian and Spanish families, including arms attributed to classical heroes and saints. Also included are selected examples of Dictionaries of Arms, family genealogies, a rare volume of South Slav heraldry and the Hatton-Dugdale facsimilies.

Western European Census Reports: 1960 Census Period

1959 - 1969

The census reports of the Western European nations contain a vast quantity of different types of demographic information. In the past, access to these reports has been hindered both by the difficulty of obtaining them and the necessity of knowing the language of publication. The problem of access has been overcome by bringing these reports together in a microfiche program based on Blake and Donovan's Western European Censuses, 1960, An English Language Guide on 1 fiche. The microfiche program includes all the titles listed in the guide - 74 titles for 22 countries. The guide provides a compendium in English of the contents of the censuses and serves as an index to the program. The following country relates to German Studies:

Women's Studies

Bibliothek der Frauenfrage in Deutschland (Library of Women's Studies in Germany)***

1790 - 1930

Only seven years after it was established, the German Union of University Women was forced to disband because it refused to adhere to Nazi ideals. During the seven years, however, chairwoman Agnes v. Zahn-Harnack was able to create a unique reference work: the Bibliography on the Question of Woman's Rights. It was supported by all the women's organizations in Germany at the time as well as the science organizations and the Prussian State Library in Berlin. Printed in 1934, the bibliography was the first to offer a comprehensive overview of the literature on women's rights and the German women's liberation movement. To date, the importance of the work remains undiminished. Listing 7,000 titles on more than 700 pages, the bibliography supplies the only indispensable reference to 150 years of women's literature, from about 1790 to 1930. The goal of the current edition is to present all the works listed in the original bibliography in a full-text microfiche edition and to augment it with literature not considered when the original was created. Works that exist as independent microfiche publications and works scheduled for publication will not be included in this edition, so it primarily will contain monographs and small literary pieces, many of which are now extremely rare and fragile. The complete collection contains twelve parts; each consists of about 500 titles and 70,000 pages (about 1,000 microfiche). Currently, parts 1-9 are available. ### German Women's Periodicals***

1778 - 1982

This collection of 89 German-language periodicals dates from 1778 to 1982. Titles are geared to a varied audience—women workers, homemakers, Jewish women, Christian women, Socialist women, women of fashion, etc. (It should be noted that some titles are supplements published by general-interest newspapers for their women readers.) These periodicals were published in such cities as Berlin, Munich, Erfurt, Frankfurt, Cologne, Rostock, Dortmund, Hamburg, Dusseldorf, Dresden, Hannover, Stuttgart and Vienna. A few of the periodicals were published for German-speaking readers in locations such as Prague, Czechoslovakia and Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

The Gerritsen Collection of Women's History

1543 - 1945

'It is safe to say that no other collection in this country offers such resources for comparative studies of the feminist movement.'

~ Anne Firor Scott, Duke University

The Gerritsen Collection of Women's History provides an entire international library spanning four centuries and documenting the lives and experiences of women in the public and private arenas. Widely acclaimed as the greatest single source for the study of international women's history and the feminist movement, this collection was begun in the late 19th century by Aletta Jacobs Gerritsen. This leading feminist and the Netherlands' first woman doctor brought together an unmatched body of material from continental Europe, the United States, the United Kingdom, Canada, Australia and New Zealand. These materials permit scholars and researchers to study what authors from various countries were writing about women during the same periods in history. The anti-feminist case is heard as well as the pro-feminist. Many other titles present a purely objective record of the condition of women during a given historical period. Considered a desideratum for any library supporting programs in women's history, social history and the history of ideas, the collection is divided into two Series: the Monograph Language Series and the Periodical Series.

17,800 Various

- Monographs

The 4,471 monographs and pamphlets in this series are available in individual language segments:

- English Monograph Titles (2,336 titles) - This segment represents perhaps the greatest single source for tracing the origins and growth of the women's suffrage and feminist movements in the English-speaking world. Featured are such materials as the writings of Carrie Chapman Catt, President of the National American Women's Suffrage publication, Ought Women to Have Votes for Members of Parliament? (1879). Such publications as Anti-Suffrage Essays by Massachusetts Women (1916), are also included.
- German Monograph Titles (929 titles) - The history of an organized women's movement is heavily documented. One biography, for example, traces the origins, problems, and successes of Germany's first national women's rights group - Allgemeiner Deutscher Frauenverein. Other interest areas include women and socialism, the history and legal status of Jewish women, and the Swiss women's movement.
- French Monograph Titles (734 titles) - Included are valuable biographies, autobiographies, histories, and more, offering research opportunities into topics such as women in the military, French law, and reforms in women's legal, civil and economic rights, and the influence of women on French literature from Gallic times through World War II.
- Additional Monographs Printed in 12 Languages (472 titles) - These monographs provide information reflecting Gerritsen's interest in amassing a library for the comparative study of the international women's movement.

4,471 monographs; 12,866 fiche & 2 reels 35mm

12,868 Various

- Periodicals

For the years 1860-1900, which is the period covered by most of the titles in this series, there is no comparable source of literature on women. Gerritsen was scrupulous in collecting complete or nearly complete runs of the periodicals chosen; however, since there were gaps in the files, supplementary titles have been assembled. This comprehensive group of 265 titles will appeal to general, professional, and specialized audiences. Included in the large selection devoted to women's social, political, and legal rights are The Suffragist (1913-21) and The Women's Protest Against Woman Suffrage (1912-18).

This collection includes the diaries, reading notes, manuscripts, photographs, newspaper clippings and correspondence of Käthe Schirmacher, who lived from 1865 to 1930 and was one of the most important figures in the German women's movement at the turn of the century. She was a founding member of the Union of Progressive Women's Associations in 1899, along with Minna Cauer, Anita Augspurg and others. Her numerous contacts with the leading figures of the time in the women's liberation movement make her correspondence particularly interesting. Schirmacher broke with the German and international women's movements in 1913. However, in the last decade of her life she renewed her efforts in the fight for equal rights for women. The 450 manuscripts, 55 notebooks and diaries, 500 photographs, 3800 newspaper clippings, 600 printed works and 14,000 letters in this collection offer a new perspective on the development of the German women's liberation movement and also shed light on German politics and society from 1890 to 1930.

During these seven years, however, a unique work was created - the Bibliography on the Question of Woman's Rights. Created by Zahn-Harnack under the sponsorship of the German Union of University Women, the work was in fact supported by all of the women's organizations in Germany at the time, as well as science organizations and the Prussian State Library in Berlin. The printing of the work took place under difficult circumstances since its premise was not in agreement with the scientific conceptions of the Nazis or with their views on women. Yet, with the publication of the first copy in 1934, a work was available that, for the first time, offered a complete overview of the literature on women's rights and the German women's liberation movement. ## Newspaper & Periodical Collections

The Emi Pathé Film Library Card Catalogue*

1896 - 1970

The 10,000 miles of news film contained in Pathé's library could reach one third of the way around the equator! The hundreds of thousands of items within this vast collections contain everything from a pin to an elephant. Much of it is unique - historic events such as the Delhi Durbar; the evacuation of Dunkirk and the Easter Rising in Ireland; personalities from the world of music, entertainment and politics; the fascinating story of 75 years of aviation; industry and transport; wars, disasters and catastrophes; Royal occasions - christenings, weddings, funerals, coronations and tours. Every item in the library is indexed for quick and easy reference and is sub-divided into main groups, which, in turn are sub-divided into specific items. For example, aviation has forty sub-divisions. Again, as an example, just one of these sub-divisions 'Record Flights and Stunts' is contained on more than one-hundred cards. The location index cards feature USA, North Africa, Ethiopia, Czechoslovakia, Germany and Ireland as well as the UK. It is this complete card index, whose original is held only at Pathé's headquarters, which is now available on microfilm.

Illustrierte Zeitschriften *

1843 - 1944

Four titles are now available in this fascinating new microfiche series. Die Gartenlaube [The Summerhouse] was a new concept in journalism. Founded after the revolution of 1848-49 and led by a gifted publisher, Ernst Keil, Die Gartenlaube used a new "quarto" format and made heavy use of pictures with text to produce an entertaining, informative and instructive paper - one that was often imitated. Created primarily for a bourgeois audience, its circulation rose to several hundred thousand copies and it created the model for the classic "family paper" of the 19th century. The paper included novels, stories, reports and essays on a variety of topics. Scholars now regard it as a comprehensive and indispensable source of information on German cultural history. Über Land und Meer [Over Land and Sea] and Daheim [At Home] were two of the main competitors to Die Gartenlaube and resembled it in both format and content. Nonetheless, both publications were able to attract a considerable segment of the late 19th century market for illustrated family and entertainment journals. Illustrierte Zeitung [Illustrated Newspaper] was, despite its title, a weekly journal. Its first year of publication marks the beginning of the German illustrated press. Because of its enormous use of pictures (and its own photographs) as well as its 111-year history, it is an important resource for all those studying German history, culture and politics.

Steuben, Baron Friedrich Wilhelm, von. Papers of Baron Friedrich Wilhelm von Steuben

1777 - 1794

General Friedrich Wilhelm von Steuben, Prussian army officer and general in the American Revolution, was born in Magdeburg in 1730. He served in the Seven Years War and later became an aide to Frederick the Great and court chamberlain for the Prince of Hohenzollern-Hechingen. In Paris in 1777 Steuben met Benjamin Franklin, who gave him letters of introduction to George Washington. Steuben arrived in America in 1778, served with Washington in Valley Forge, and by the end of the war had become one of the American Revolution's most celebrated military heroes. Nearly 4000 documents from more than one hundred private and institutional sources in Europe, Latin America and the US have been assembled for this microfilm edition of Steuben's Papers, edited by Edith von Zemenszky.

Includes guide containing background material on the period, a biographical essay on Steuben and a detailed index

The Manuscripts of the Munich University Library*

800 - 1600

The Munich University Library is in possession of more than 600 medieval manuscripts. Some of them are exceptional treasures such as Lex Baiuvariorum, the oldest preserved manuscript of the Bavarian public law (dating back to around 800) or a gospel book from the court school of Karl the Great (also around 800).

Munich, Germany; In German

2,830 fiche

- The Medieval German Manuscripts, 500-1450***

They mainly consist of 100 entirely textual manuscripts or manuscripts for commodity, Artes literales and religious prose, books of law (Golden Bull, Upper Bavarian land law, several Swabian codes, city law of Augsburg), calendars, cooking manuscripts, a hunting book, medical and scientific texts. Most codices date back to the second half of the 15th century and originate from Old Bavaria, Franconia and from the Swabian region. There are also some texts from central parts of Germany as well as from the Netherlands. Worth mentioning is a book by Michael de Leones (around 1350), which presents a rich tradition of Middle high German literature.

263 fiche

- The Medieval Latin Manuscripts, 500-1450***

The folio works as part of this collection consist of about 230 titles of mainly Southern German origin, more than half of them being of theological content. Many of them once belonged to the University of Vienna. In addition to that there is a remarkable amount of codices of Italian origin as well as some French and Bohemian texts. Noteworthy are the juridical (among them several formularies and lecture notes from Pavia) and both the philosophic and scientific texts. Also worth mentioning are a gospel book (from the court school of Karl the Great), a fragment by Euklid (originating from Northern France, around 800), a comment to the Epistle to the Hebrews by Hrabanus Maurus (France, 9th century), the Annals of Weissenburg (11th century), records of the Council of Konstanz, a corpus of texts from the Albertistenschule in Cologne, an anthology containing more than 200 letters and speeches dating back to the 15th century from near Venice and autographs by Johannes Eck. A Greek medieval manuscript also included in this collection is a commented gospel book dating back to the 10th century. The only octavo manuscripts are mostly volumes from the late Middle Ages. The most exclusive among the oldest pieces is Lex Baiuvariorum from the early 9th century. In addition to that there are also fragments dating back to the 11th century including the Waltharius-poem, three manuscripts from the 12th century showing Eastern French handwriting as well as two illuminated pocket bibles from Northern France or northwestern Italy dating back to the 13th century. Regarding the 15th century, also worth mentioning are: the illuminated Flemish Stundenbuch (book of hours) as well as a prayer-book, a text by Boccaccio from Florence and a Tribull-Propertius-Ovid manuscript. Two thirds of the octavo manuscripts belonged to the Franciscan Order in Landshut. They are mostly of theological content, several being the orders' books of rule. In addition to the manuscripts already mentioned there also exist 140 in quarto format. They cover all medieval fields of knowledge: astronomical, scientific, grammatical (incl. Hebrew) and rhetoric, theologic and philosophic, juridical and historical texts as well as classical authors. Some of the noteworthy books are works by Rufinus, Sulpicius Severus and Augustinus (8th/9th century), works by Cicero (10th/11th century), the Würzburg Psalterium (around 1200), letters from Conrad Celtis, the Ingolstadt Library catalogue from 1508 as well as a few more manuscripts once belonging to Johannes Eck, especially an autograph dating back to 1510 and containing geographic and cosmographic notes going back to the times Eck spent in Feiburg.

- The Music Manuscripts***

The microfiche edition contains the total stock of music manuscripts from Munich University Library: 42 medieval and 26 modern pieces. Several vocal books and an anthology from the 13th century belonging to the humanist and music theorist Heinrich Glaeren are especially noteworthy. Also significant is a series of Stimmbücher (hymn books) from Southern German Tegernsee and Ebersberg, the order of the Prämonstratenser in Schäftlarn and the Augustinian convent Moosburg (Moosburger Graduale, around 1355). In literary studies, the music manuscripts of the Munich University Library have so far found varying attention. The interest has mainly been focused on already known single texts of the collection, such as the Moosburger Graduale, while other rarities are still hardly known. The German Antiphonarium, The Bauerberger Vollbrevier, the organ books of Bernhard Rem and the motet collection of Senfl for instance have only sporadically been of interest for scientific research and are still waiting to be discovered by specialists.

The Medieval Manuscripts from the Anhalt Regional Library Dessau *

The Anhalt regional Library can look back at an eventful history: opened back in February 1922 as Anhaltische Landesbucherei, it's holdings based on the Ducal Administrative Library founded between 1876 and 1878. During the 1920's, several additional collections found their way into the Anhalt Regional Library, part of which were the Ducal Court Library and Georg's Library. During world War II the library was struck hard by a major damage: about 90 percent of its holdings were lost. Thanks to intensive exchange deals after 1945 - for example with the Berlin, the Gotha and the Halle Libraries - the library's inventory increased again. In 1959, the library was integrated to the Halle University and Regional Library. A few year later it was united with the Dessau City Library and eventually, in 1991, the library received it's original name: Anhaltische Landesbucherei. Today its collection numbers 111,000 volumes, 10,000 of which are old holdings. The collection contains texts in Latin, German, Hebrew, Italian and French. The thematic spectrum reaches from theology, law, art, poetry, music and medicine to the natural sciences. Among today's manuscript holdings from the Anhalt Regional Library, the Georg's Library is the largest. The most valuable manuscripts mainly belong to this library.

- Die Georgsbibliothek (George III Library)***

Georg III (1506-1553) was dean of the cathedral in Magdeburg and later evangelic bishop in Merseburg. Among his friends were Martin Luther and Melanchthon. Georg's mother, Margarete von Münsterberg (1473-1530) and other members of the family helped increasing his library. In 1926, the state of Anhalt decided to buy the collection for the Anhalt Regional Library. Today, Georg's Library contains about 500 volumes (1,800 titles). Some of them are richly illustrated manuscripts, incunabula and early paintings. It also records writings by Reformers such as Luther, Melanchthon, Zwingli, Calvin and Hutten, as well as by anti-Reformers such as Johannes Eck and Cochlaeus. In addition to that, there are also classical writers, works by humanists (for example Erasmus) and many more. Beginning in 1528, Georg even started collecting Hebrew writings.

- Die Herzogliche Behördenbibliothek (Ducal Administrative Library), 1568-1900***

It unites several collections from Bernburg and Dessau; the most important one being the Bernburg Library of the Princes Christian I (1599-1656). This collection reached its peak back in the early 18th century: in 1715 it numbered 2,335 titles. Also integrated into the Herzogliche Behördenbibliothek were: the Arnstadt and Sonderhausen Library; the library of the convent Gerode, the library of the Fürstlich Anhaltische Deutsche Gessellschaft (Anhalt's Princely German Association), the collections from the Mining Department Harzgerode, the Medicinal Libraries Bernburg and the Anhalt Collection owned by the pastor and historian Theodor Elze (1823-1900), A number of institutions, such as the Office for Statistics, the Office for Agriculture and the Princely Amalienstiftung, also donated their holdings to the Anhalt Regional Library.

- Die Herzogliche Hofbibliothek (Ducal Court Library), 1567-1889***

Opened in 1820 as a public library, it housed the libraries of various castles in Dessau and its surrounding areas. The oldest collection is the one established by Johann Georg I (1567-1618), which was later continued by his daughter, Eva Katharina (1613-1679). Also worth mentioning is the library of Prince Friedrich Franz von Wörlitz. In addition to that, the following libraries were also included: the library of the architect Friedrich Wilhelm von Erdmannsdorff (1736-1800), the collections of both the elementary school and the Philanthropinum, as well as several other private collections such as one formerly owned by the Russian librarian von Schardius or the astronomer Schwabe. In 1898 the collection of Prussian diplomat Hermann von Thiele (1812-1889), which focused on history and literature, also found its way into the Anhalt Regional Library.

German Drama: 16th-early 20th Centuries

1600 - 1968

OmniSys World Literature Collections (OWL)

This collection contains German-language plays published from the 16th to the early 20th centuries. Titles have been selected from the printed catalogs of the great national libraries, as well as from specialized collections. Scholars will find included in this collection the entire holdings of opera libretti printed before 1800, from the Albert Schatz Collection in the Library of Congress. The collection also contains translations into German of plays first published in other languages and plays in German printed in the United States. Norman Binger's A Bibliography of German Plays on Microcards (Hamden, CT, Shoestring Press, 1970) indexes the titles in the 1961-68 annual groups. About The Loewenberg Collection of German Drama (included in the German Drama collection, above.) This well-known collection of plays from the original holdings of Dr. Alfred Loewenberg includes some three thousand works. Containing German plays dating from 1880-1930, as well as German translations of important foreign works that influenced, or were influenced by, German productions, almost all of the works in this collection are first editions. Included in the collection are works by pre-expressionist and naturalist Gerhart Hauptmann; impressionist Frank Wedekind; the dramatists of the Young Germany Group; the young Bertolt Brecht; and important foreign authors including Ibsen, Maeterlinck, Strindberg, Zola, Artsybashev, Donnay and Molnar.

Hymnological Sources from Augsburg Libraries*

1501 - 1700

Despite their cultural and historical importance, hymnological sources (hymnbooks, collections of ecclesiastical rules, etc.) have never been collected systematically by academic libraries. Instead, they came more by accident into the possession of these libraries, i.e. through donations or the acquisition of complete scholarly collections. The immense dispersion of books due to secularization and mediatization (the assignment of formerly independent secular territories to new sovereignties) after 1800 also contributed to today's scattered distribution of these sources. Apart from the few large libraries that are treasure troves for hymnologists because of the exceptional importance of their historical holdings in general, most sources included in this edition are preserved in a number of relatively small institutions. Das deutsche Kirchenlied (The German Hymn, abbr. DKL), published in 1976 as a volume of the Répertoire international des sources musicales, records about 4,500 printed sources including notes from the period prior to 1800. Today these books are owned by about 1,000 different libraries (among them numerous smaller municipal libraries, private collections, church and monastic libraries); almost 600 of them are located in Germany.

- 16th Century Literature, 1501-1600***

Augsburg State and City Library and Augsburg University Library together own more than 200 hymnological sources dating back to the 16th century: hymnbooks as well as collections of ecclesiastical rules containing hymns, also some mass books and breviaries with notes. The share of Roman Catholic titles (40%) is relatively high. The DKL records a total of 79 16th century titles in Augsburg libraries, among them 10 unica and 25 extremely rare pieces of which worldwide only two to three duplicates are known. Examples for these unica are: Geystlike leder un Psalmen (Magdeburg after 1539; DKL 1540,3), Geystliche Lieder (Nürnberg before 1564; DKL 1564,1), Nikolaus Herman's Sontags Evangelia (Nürnberg 1570; DKL 1570,7), Gaistliche Lieder un Psalmen D. Mart. Lut. und andern frommen Christen (Augsburg 1580; DKL 1580,1) and Psalmen geystliche Lieder und Gesange (Straßburg 1587; DKL 1587,12).

The Music Manuscripts from the Augsburg State and City Library*

1200 - 2000

The public library of Augsburg was established in 1537. In the course of the Reformation, many monasteries were abandoned. Thus, parts of the Carmelite, Dominican and Franciscan Orders' book collections became the foundations of the new library's collection. The librarian in charge was the rector of the gymnasium of St. Anna, founded in 1531. The 106 musical manuscripts of the Staats- und Stadtbibliothek Augsburg date from the 13th to the 20th century. A small part of the collection comprises material from the 15th century and early 16th century, which includes 16 manuscripts. There is also material from the period from 1550 until the 30 Years War, with 42 manuscripts. Altogether, 82 manuscripts in the collection originated before 1806 and 38 of them came from the Benedictine Abbey of St. Ulrich and Afra. The musical manuscripts of the Staats- und Stadtbibliothek from the 19th and 20th centuries mainly consist of works of local composers. The library owns, for example, manuscripts of compositions by the Augsburg Cathedral Director of Music, Franz Gregor Bühler (4 Cod. mus. 12, 13, 14, 15 and 23), whose Masses and oratorios became very popular in Southern Germany and Austria in the 19th century.

Some mandora and lute tabulators show some of the common music of the 18th century (Tonk. Schl. 290 and Tonk. Schl. 509), whereas one popular manuscript with lute music (Tonk. Fasc. III) comprises chamber music which had been played at the Court of Bayreuth. Although one cannot dispute that these titles are of some importance as evidence of the music of the time, the most valuable pieces in the collection will be found between the 14th and 17th centuries. Here one must point out a psalter (2 Cod.49a) written by Leonard Wagner in 1495 and richly illuminated in the studio of Georg Beck and an illuminated gradual also written by Wagner in approximately 1500 (2 Cod. 248). In particular, splendidly rendered is a manuscript by Andreas Maierhofer from 1568 with Magnificat- Compositions by the Dutch Orlando di Lasso (Tonk. Schl. 13) which triggered an intense study of Lasso in St. Ulrich and Afra. There are also compositions by Lasso students from Munich among the Augsburg handwritings. Leonard Lechner (Tonk. Schl. 20), Jakob Reiner (Tonk. Schl. 4) and Johann Eccard (Tonk. Schl. 6) should be mentioned among these. Of special interest in terms of music history is the manuscript 2 Cod. 142a from 1505-1514. It is a fine example of common music in Augsburg, including songs, chansons and motets. Among the composers it includes are Fuldra, Finck, Josquin, Senfl and Alexander Agricola.

From the collection of the Reichsstadt are two manuscripts containing Renaissance motets by predominantly Dutch composers, which were written in 1570/71 and 1595 (Tonk. Schl. 273-278 and Tonk. Schl. 298-301). Also of historical importance is a 1616 score - manuscripts with canzones and motets by Asprilio Pacelli, Giovanni and Andrea Gabrieli (Tonk. Schl. 39). A cross-section of Augsburg's Catholic music prior to the 30 Years War is exemplified by a choir book from 1610 by St. Ulrich and Afra's first writer Johannes Dreher (Tonk. Schl. 4). Not only can figures of international significance, such as Clemens non papa, Hollander, Lasso and Palestrina, be found here, but also the representatives of the Augsburg music world, such as Aichinger, Erbach and Klingenstein. Of particular interest for music historians are fragments of a manuscript from around 1500, including free renderings of French-Burgundy Chansons and motets by composers of the Ockeghem-Generation, which was found bound in scrap paper in Mindelheim in 1610 (4 Cod. mus. 25).

As a concluding example of superb pieces from the collection, one should mention the Sequentiar 8 Cod. 61 from 1561-1562. It is quite exceptional because it contains 100 sequences, of which 96 were excluded by the council of Trident. It was mainly preserved for purposes of posterity. The manuscripts from the Staats- und Stadtbibliothek Augsburg are still of exceptional significance for scholars of music science and music history, both as evidence of music development in Augsburg before 1630 and, in the case of the later works, for their significance as single compositions. Music theorists and practitioners will always be interested in using them in scholarly research or as evidence in scientific analyses and in reviving them through performances or new publications. This microform publication will dramatically enhance the accessibility of these splendid manuscripts for all users.

The Music Prints from the Augsburg State and City Library*

1488 - 1630

The Augsburg City Library (Stadtbibliothek) was established in 1537. Many cloisters had been dissolved in the course of the Reformation and so the basic components of the new library were formed from parts of the collections of the abolished mendicant orders such as the Carmelites, Dominicans and Franciscans. The rector of the Gymnasium of St. Anna (founded in 1531) was named city librarian. In the first years of its existence, the library had an acquisitions budget of 50 Guilders per year. In 1535, 100 Greek manuscripts were purchased in Venice and their possession brought the Augsburg Library immediate fame. Two seminary libraries with Reformation literature were also purchased. Under its learned leaders - Hieronymus Wolf, for instance and, later, Georg Henisch - the library was developed in the 16th century into a research institute of some note. Following the trail blazed by the Bibliotheca Palatina from Heidelberg to Rome, the Augsburg Library became the most important Protestant library in Germany.

The collection includes 438 prints dating from the earliest years of book-printing up to the Thirty Years War: 41 works of music theory, 10 liturgical prints, 80 collected works of mostly secular and some spiritual music, as well as 307 secular and spiritual works of prominent individual Italian, German and Dutch composers. The collection contains many unique prints and approximately half of the collection consists of prints done in Italy, among which are numerous products of the Printer Gardano in Venice. While there are among the MSS countless examples of cloister holdings, especially those of the Benedictine Abbey of St. Ulrich and Afra, only a few of the printed holdings originated as spoils of secularization. Some 40 percent of the early music prints give no hint whatsoever of their origin. A further 40 percent of the prints carry a painted rendition of the Augsburg coat of arms on their bindings. These were obviously the books containing the various instrumental parts for the Augsburg City Musicians. Next to these, the Italian prints are the most numerous. The intensive direct trade relations with Venice certainly facilitated the acquisition of the newest Italian musical prints. That newly-appeared musical pieces were acquired quite quickly is demonstrated also by the dance-collections of the Brothers Hess, published in 1555 in Breslau. The binding on these collections comes from 1558 and they carry the Augsburg Council stamp of ownership from the same year.

Besides these volumes of the City Musicians and the few prints that can be proven to come from cloister collections, there are a few from St. Anna and from the private libraries of Gregor Aichinger and Marcus Welser. Of the works of music theory, the following are to be especially noted: Hugo Spechtshart's Flores musicae, Strasbourg 1488; Martin Agricola's Musica instrumentalis deutsch, Wittenberg 1529 and his Musica figuralis deutsch, Wittenberg 1532; Nikolaus Listenius's Rudimenta musica, Wittenberg 1533; Heinrich Glarean's Musicae Epitome ex Glareani Dodecachordo, Basel 1559; and Athanasius Kircher's Musurgia universalis, Rome 1650. Among the liturgical prints, three prints are to be found of the early Augsburg printer Erhard Ratdolt, whose products are among the best in quality of their time period: Vigiliae ac vesperae mortuorum cum officiis secundum chorum Augustensem, Augsburg 1491; Ordo processionis ac missae celebrationis ad divinum auxilium contra infideles impetrandum, Augsburg 1496; and Divo Hieronymo sacrum. Divae Annae sacrum, Augsburg 1512.

The following are especially noteworthy examples among the collected works: Liber selectarum cantionum, collected by Ludwig Senfl, Augsburg 1520; both collections of Spanish, Italian, English and French, as well as German and Polish dances, published by the brothers Paul and Bartholomäus Hess in Breslau 1555; the collection I dolci et harmoniosi concerti, Venice 1562; and the Hortus musicalis, works of Italian composers collected by Michael Herrer in Munich 1609. Of the 307 secular and spiritual works of individual composers, the Melopoiae sive harmoniae tetracenticae of Petrus Tritonius (a setting to music of the Odes of Horace), which appeared in Augsburg in 1507, must be specially mentioned. The collection also holds a large number of works from the composers Agostino Agazzari, Andrea and Giovanni Gabrieli, Giovanni Giacomo Gastoldi, Jacob Hándl, Hans Leo Hassler, Fernando de la Infantas, Marc Antonio Ingegneri, Orlando di Lasso, Luca Marenzio, Philippe de Monte, Giovanni Prioli, Jacob Regnard and Orazio Vecchi.

Paintings in the Kunsthistorisches Museum

The Kunsthistorisches Museum in Vienna contains the superb collection of pictures belonging to the House of Habsburg, Holy Roman Emperors and rulers of the Austro-Hungarian Empire. Powerful and rich, the Habsburg monarchs were able to amass a priceless collection reflecting the two great strands of European painting, north and south of the Alps, from the 15th to the 18th century. Many of the paintings are relatively little known and have rarely been reproduced making this microfiche collection an entirely new visual resource invaluable for both teaching and research

German Nationalism, National Socialism and Postwar Reconstruction (NSDAP)

1918 - 1949

This important microfiche collection contains more than 1,400 titles published from 1918 to 1949 by various National Socialist German Workers' Party (NSDAP) organizations and their precursors, as well as by publishers sympathetic to the Nazi party and regime. The materials depict the political and social crises that led to the rise of National Socialism in Germany as they were expressed in everyday contemporary society. The materials range from administrative reports of the Third Reich to mass-market propaganda in the form of pamphlets, popular magazines and booklets. Among the dozens of topics covered by this wide array of material are the establishment of Nazi organs, the implementation of pre-Weimar Nazi policy and the postwar dismantling of the party organizations. This resource also contains publications and documents that were produced by anti-Nazi organizations or commentators who opposed Nazism both during and after the collapse of the Third Reich. After World War II, possession of such material in Germany and former occupied territories by ordinary citizens came to be incriminating evidence of Nazi sympathies and much material of this nature was destroyed as a result.

Consequently, the material in the present collection is rarely held by research libraries and is difficult to obtain for scholarly purposes. Approximately twenty percent of the publications preserved in the collection are the only copies known to exist; the remainder exist in extremely limited numbers and are found in only a handful of institutions in Europe and North America. Though much of the content—and even the existence of these materials—may be deemed offensive, the collection forms an important historical record and constitutes a surprisingly complete body of documentary evidence of the propaganda, financial, political and social apparatus behind the Nazi regime. The publications, which are in excellent and legible condition, have been stored under special restricted access and have been circulated sparingly to readers as part of an uncataloged backlog for over 50 years. The fiche collection is organized topically with an introduction to each section provided in the Printed Guide.

The following subsets are available from this collection:

- National Socialism
- The SS, the SA, the Wehrmacht: Militarism And Defense

Judaica Collections

The Hebraica and Judaica of the Tychsen Collection and the Rostock University Library*

1734 - 1815

In 1817, Rostock University acquired the private library, including the manuscript legacy, of Oluf Gerhard Tychsen (1734-1815). In 1760, Tychsen began working at the then newly-established Bützow University in Mecklenburg and in 1763 he was offered a chair of oriental languages. In addition to that, he also worked as a librarian. After the reunion of the universities of Rostock and Bützow in 1789, he moved to Rostock. At the time of his death, Tychsen's private library consisted of about 10,000 volumes. His excellent bibliographical skills and his passion for collections resulted in a treasury of books that was anything but average. Apart from the sale of a few surplus copies during the 19th century, the collection remains nearly complete and forms the heart of the university's Hebraica and Judaica inventory. It is being supplemented by books from other ducal Mecklenburg libraries as well as several acquisitions made by the university itself. These items make the Rostock Hebraica and Judaica one of the most remarkable collections on the European Continent. This collection is divided into the following four sections:

The Old Yiddish Literature

The nearly 400 titles of this edition offer a cross-section of the history of Yiddish books up to the 19th century. There are numerous rarities and unicas, including the first Yiddish printing, Mirkevet ha-Mishne, Krakau 1543. Among translations and paraphrases of the Bible the collection contains the Konstanz-edition (1544) as well as translations by Blitz and Witzgenhausen. Three of the existing editions of the Tsene-rene (Frankfurt a.M. 1685, Sulzbach 1702) were first discovered in Rostock and the third of those (Fürth [Pseudo-Amsterdam] 1761) is apparently to be found nowhere else. One of the rarities among the prayer-books is a Hebrew Siddur. It contains Yiddish passages and was published in 1560 in Mantua. The collection chronologically focuses on the 18th century. Therefore, it can be seen as an extension of the 17th century book collection by Johann Chr. Wagenseil (1633-1707), who lived exactly 100 years earlier than Tychsen.

Yiddish Philology

At the center of Yiddish philology are books reflecting the analysis of Judaism made by Christian scholars. Already in the 16th century, the Taitsch for Jews, which contained Hebrew letters, attracted their attention. Scholars such as Elias Schade and Thomas Blebel, Jr., who both lived at the turn of the 16th century, often combined Hebrew grammar with introductions to Jüdisch-Deutsch in their works.

Missionary Writings

In many aspects, Tychsen's legacy shows a missionary tendency that was characterized by Pietism. Printings of treatises or of the Bible, published by Callenberg's Institutum Judaicum (1728-92), are an important part of the collection. It consists of more than 30 titles and thus comprises over two thirds of the Yiddish missionary treatises, several of them existing in various editions and, according to the addressee, with either the title and preface in Latin or completely in Jüdisch-Deutsch, or German written in the Hebrew alphabet.

Pocket Diaries

A collection of more than 80 copies of 69 different Jewish pocket diaries is also noteworthy. They were all produced between 1712 and 1814 in such diverse locations as Altona, Amsterdam, Berlin, Frankfurt (Oder), Fürth, Hamburg, Jessnitz and Sulzbach. Pocket diaries were considered articles of daily use and were thus generally not collected by libraries. However, they offer interesting information on folklore and folk medicine and there is a visible analogy to Christian calendars. A dozen broadsheets form an additionally remarkable part of the collection. Three of them date from the 17th and the 18th century, the others were printed during the revolution of 1848 and make use of the Yiddish language as a means of political satire.

Rare Periodicals and Books from the Żydowski Instytut Historyczny

Rare and previously unavailable serials

This collection offers 124 rare newspapers, periodicals and books on microfilm from the ŻIH archives. The publications date from 1817 to 1950 and cover all aspects of Jewish life from daily news and issues to theology, history, demographic information and more. A majority of the titles included in this collection have never before been filmed and were unavailable until now. And in many instances, the ŻIH holds the only known extant copies of these important publications. The publications are in German, Polish, Yiddish, Hebrew and English and were published in what is now known as Poland, Austria, Germany, Ukraine, Hungary, Turkey, Lithuania, Russia, Belarus and the Czech and Slovak Republics.

An invaluable resource for scholars

The publications reproduced in this collection contain a wealth of significant historical information about the Jewish communities of Poland and Eastern Europe. Overall, the collection is an outstanding resource for scholars in the fields of Jewish, Holocaust and Slavic studies, as well as Polish and European history. All libraries with significant holdings in these areas will find this collection invaluable.

About the ŻIH

The Żydowski Instytut Historyczny (Jewish Historical Institute), or ŻIH, is the oldest and largest institution devoted to the study of the history of the Jews in Poland. From its beginnings in 1881 it has grown to be a major repository of important cultural artifacts of the former Jewish communities of Poland and the adjacent regions. It employs a polyglot staff and houses a museum, library and archive that hold rare print and photographic artifacts that recall a lost world of Jewish life and culture. The Institute is adjacent to the former site of Warsaw's largest synagogue, which was destroyed by the Nazis in May 1943 as a gesture of "victory" over the Warsaw Ghetto uprising.

The Wagenseil Collection*

1633 - 1705

Johann Christoph Wagenseil was born in Nuremberg in 1633 and died in Altdorf in 1705. After completing his studies, he traveled the countries of Europe and the Near East for more than ten years as a private tutor and tutor to princes. During his travels Wagenseil was already able to lay the foundation for his library. For in 1666 when, under the influence of the pseudo-messiah Sabbethai Zvi, many Jews sold their possessions, he succeeded in acquiring a number of extremely rare Hebraic works in Amsterdam. From 1667 onwards Wagenseil was professor of history and public law, from 1674 of oriental studies and from 1697 of canon law at The University of Altdorf. Wagenseil himself was the writer and editor of several important works on Jewish culture. Amongst other things he had rare Jewish writings reprinted, as with the Tela Ignea Satanae (Satan's Burning Arrow), Altdorf 1681 (VK 112; 113). In addition to a Jewish-German abridged grammar, he published a small chrestomathy of Yiddish writings under the title Belehrung der Jüdisch-Teutschen Red- und Schreibart (Information on Jewish-German idiom and style), in Königsberg in 1699.

Shortly after Wagenseil's death in 1705, his heirs began their endeavors to sell the collection of books. However it was not until 1780 that the transaction was finally concluded and the University of Altdorf purchased the collection of approximately 600 titles, bound in 300 volumes. The collection is divided, as we know today, roughly as follows: 150 volumes of Hebraic writings, i.e. writings by Jews for Jews in the Hebrew language, 55 volumes of Hebrew writings by Christian Hebraists and 95 volumes of philological literature from Abyssinian and Arabic through Greek and Japanese to Persian and Syrian. The main emphasis of the contents is on bibles (monolingual, bilingual and multilingual parallel editions), editions of the Talmud, descriptions of life and customs, historical literature, grammars and dictionaries, as well as rarities of Jewish-German literature. Among the oldest copies in the Wagenseil Collection are Elia Levita, Capitula Cantici..., Basle 1527 and Moses Maimonides, Logica Sapientis, Basle 1527 (VK 248). The oldest Arabic copy of Avicenna's, Canon, Rome 1592, various works by the Leiden orientalist, Thomas Erpenius (1584-1624) as well as some Syrian copies from Paris (early 17th century) are also worth mentioning.

Salzburger Nachrichten

1998 - Present

Austria

The Salzburger Nachrichten was founded on June 7, 1945. It was one of the first Austrian newspapers to make its debut after the Second World War and was launched by the Information Service Branch of the United States Armed Forces for the Austrian populace. The paper was published by Max Dasch and Dr. Gustav A. Canaval. As of June 23, 1945, the Salzburger Nachrichten began appear with the additional moniker "Unabhängige Tageszeitung" ("An Independent Daily"). From 1953 to 1983 the paper bore the subtitle: "Frei Tageszeitung für die Bundesländer" ("Free Newspaper for the Bundeslands"). In February 1983, this was changed to "Un abhängige Tageszeitung für Österreich" ("Independent Daily for Austria") to underscore its integral role as a Bundesland-oriented newspaper, an importance which it had assumed along with only a few other regional newspapers published outside of Vienna. Today the newspaper remains one of Austria's most-read dailies.

From the International Transport Workers' Federation Archives held at the Modern Records Centre, University of Warwick Library. From 1934 to 1945, the ITWF devoted its energies to publishing Fascism (entitled Swastika in its first year of publication), a fortnightly periodical describing conditions in Nazi Germany and, to a lesser extent, Spain and Italy. Designed to give information about social policy and based on analyses of newspapers and periodicals of the day, as well as reports from illegal cadres, this title gives a unique insight into life under Fascist regimes, focusing in particular on the working-class movement, organized labor and the growth of trade unions.

Up until 1926, the monthly magazine went by the additional name Organ der Hamburger Bühne. However, from the very beginning it was a platform for issues concerning contemporary art, music (incl. Jazz), literature and architecture. Le Corbusier, H. H. Stuckenschmidt, Hans Henny Jahnn, Ludwig Klages, Max Beckmann, Hans Leip, Joachim Maass and Rudolf Alexander Schröder are among the contributors. Writers' portraits, culture-philosophical essays and reviews are as much part of the liberal magazine's profile as are pictures of works of art from various epochs. The last issue (1933, No. 5) contains contemplations by Hanns Johst, Reinhold Schneider and Friedrich Sieburg. This edition is based on the 102 original single issues which appeared between November 1924 and May 1933.

Polytechnisches Journal

1820 - 1931
Germany
The Polytechnisches Journal documented the important stages of the industrial development in Europe from the early 19th century until the first decades of the 20th century. The scope of its reports extends from the early innovations in agriculture, manufacture and mining, the new developments in machinery, transportation vehicles, telecommunication and chemistry to the reception of Einstein's theory of relativity in the last editions of the journal. The journal also covers the technical progress in other countries, in particular Great Britain and France during the 19th century and Italy, Russia and America in the 20th century. The Polytechnisches Journal was the only journal in Europe which published a complete register of all English patents. Besides the technical aspects, the journal also addressed the social problems which were connected with the technical progress: the emergence of factory workers, the formation of trade unions and the first disputes as to environmental pollution. For today's research into the history of technics and industry and their social aspects, the Polytechnisches Journal is a first rate and indispensable source.

Amtsblatt der Europäischen Union

The Official Journal of the European Union: German Edition

1985 - Present

From legislative decisions to committee resolutions, The Official Journal of the European Union (OJ) lets users study the history and expansion of the EU, as well as access the full record of the EU's dialogue with other world bodies. This daily publication allows you to:

- Access the official record of EU legislation
- Obtain complete coverage of EU development
- Find detailed information on individual EU member countries and their role within the EU
- Investigate the EU's dialogue with other world bodies

As the authoritative source of EU law, the OJ is the full record of ancillary and regular reports of the EU, with a backfile to 1952 in other languages. The ProQuest® microfiche edition is the only source for the complete OJ Legislative (L) Series and Court of Justice (C) Series.

Although the OJ is published in print by the EU, as well as in electronic form in 11 languages, the print editions are limited runs and, particularly for the earlier years, can be difficult or impossible to acquire. Additionally, the electronic runs are available for only a limited time. Subscribers to the OJ microfiche edition automatically receive monthly updates, so users get the exclusive complete archive of EU policy and development. The ProQuest edition, available on compact and long-lasting silver halide microfiche, is published one month after the release of the original documents. The OJ on microfiche contains:

- Legislation (the 'L' series) - regulations, directives, decisions, recommendations and opinions
- Court of Justice (the 'C' series) - summaries of judgments from the Court of Justice and the Court of First Instance;
- Statements of the Committee of the Regions and the Economic and Social Committee, competition notices and much more.
- Debates of the European Parliament - a verbatim report of the Parliament's proceedings, issued in monthly installments

In addition, OJ subscribers get the annual Directory of Community Legislation in Force, as well as monthly and annual chronological indexes. The monthly and annual indexes consist of two volumes: Volume I- Alphabetical Index and Volume II - Methodological Tables. Indexed items in the Alphabetical Index refer to the titles of the documents in the Methodological Tables.

STARS AND STRIPES

*'On November 9, 1861, soldiers of the Illinois 11th, 18th and 29th Regiments, after forcing the Confederates south, set up camp in Bloomfield, Missouri. Upon finding the newspaper office empty, they decided to print a newspaper for their expedition, relating the troop's activities. They called it The Stars and Stripes. This was the beginning of the "Soldier's Newspaper" 140 years ago.'*
~ Stars and Stripes Museum/Library Museum/Library Association, Inc.

The Stars and Stripes is unique among the world's publishing institutions. The U.S. Defense Department's official newspaper for its troops stationed abroad, it is considered indispensable for the sense of community that it instills in soldiers, particularly during long deployments. A 1996 Wall Street Journal article about the newspaper quoted servicemen stationed overseas who said, "The only thing more popular is mail from home. . . .If we stopped getting Stripes, there'd be a riot." Offering news and features on a variety of military topics, as well as an overview of politics, business and sports, the paper is particularly popular for its stories on local conditions and local troops. A recent study concluded that the availability of the paper remains, as it has always been, a "major quality-of-life issue" for soldiers and their families overseas.

Through the years, particularly during wartime, The Stars and Stripes has been published in a variety of editions. We are pleased to make available microfilm collections of a number of these editions, dating from World War I to the present. Researchers on American history, military history and genealogy will find these collections to be invaluable reference tools.

UMI Dissertation Publishing

Soon after its founding in 1938, ProQuest became the publisher of record for U.S. doctoral dissertations. To this day, ProQuest fills that role for graduate students whose dissertations and masters theses have been accepted by accredited institutions throughout North America.

How UMI's Dissertation Program Works

Dissertations and theses available from ProQuest /UMI are used by researchers in all fields of study. The ProQuest /UMI dissertation product line - which consists of bibliographic data, indexing, access tools and the published documents themselves - is recognized worldwide because of its comprehensive coverage, high-quality information and rigorous editorial control.

The online ProQuest Dissertation & Theses Database (PQDT) catalogs over 2 million doctoral dissertations and master's theses, dating from the first U.S. dissertation in 1861. Thousands more are added yearly. Over one million dissertations and theses are available in full page image in microform and paper, both bound and unbound. Many are also available in digital format, for downloading over the Web. Dissertations can be located and ordered on a standing order basis or via:

- ProQuest Dissertations & Theses, which provides searching capabilities and online access to citations and abstracts for every title in the database. Titles published since 1997 are available in .PDF digital format and have citation and abstract, plus 24 page previews available. Dissertations can be purchased in print, microfiche or .pdf format.
- ProQuest Dissertation Express for both individuals and libraries. If you have a specific title in mind, Dissertation Express will let you look it up by title, author or publication number. Once you find it, you can place your order immediately via our online ordering system. Use this service when you know exactly which dissertation you need to order. Dissertations can be purchased in print, microfiche or .pdf format.
- DATRIX Direct - custom computerized search service (please see the DATRIX form enclosed in this document). This is an individualized search we perform for you based on your specific research topic.

DATRIX DIRECT

Direct to you Successful research depends on your sources. That's why if you're preparing to start a research project, it makes sense to first find out what's been written in your area of interest. You'll not only avoid duplicating someone else's work, you'll benefit from their research. | You could search the titles of over 1.6 million dissertations and master's theses yourself—if you have the time and patience. Or you can have DATRIX Direct conduct a dissertation search for you that's exhaustive, not exhausting.

Discover sources unique to your topic DATRIX Direct is an individualized search that gives a one-of-a-kind listing of only those dissertation citations directly relevant to your specific research topic. The result is a computer printout of exactly the bibliographic citations you need. No more and no less. It could be as many as five hundred or as few as none (informing you that your research topic is totally unexplored).

Because it's a computerized search, DATRIX Direct is comprehensive—through UMI's vast computer database of over 1.6 million dissertations and master's theses dating back to 1861. And with thousands of citations being added to the database every month, DATRIX Direct is more up-to-date than any printed source. ■ Each citation includes a title, author, degree, date, institution, subject category, and order number, as well as where the abstract can be found in UMI's monthly publication Dissertation Abstracts International or the bi monthly Masters Abstracts International.

How to order your search To organize your search, complete both sides of the DATRIX Direct Search Request form and send it to UMI at the address shown. ■

The results of your DATRIX Direct search will be sent first-class mail and should arrive within two weeks of receipt of your order. For faster service, call us toll free at 800-521-3042; outside the U.S. and Canada, call 734-761-4700, ext. 7044.

SUBJECT CATEGORIES Dissertation Abstracts International is arranged by subject categories. These categories have been selected by the authors to identify their dissertations.

MATRIX DIRECT SEARCH REQUEST

The success of your search depends on how accurately and specifically you describe your research needs. The information you provide below will help us create a search strategy. Please type or clearly print in ink.

RESEARCH TOPIC Write the proposed title of your study or a summary of your research topic _____

DATABASE MATERIAL TO BE SEARCHED (Please check one)  Dissertations & master's theses  Dissertations only  Master's theses only

KEYWORDS UMI's dissertation database is accessed by a search for keywords in the dissertation title. The number of relevant citations retrieved depends largely on your keyword strategy. For best results, follow the procedure below:

1 Write 1 to 3 keywords from your research topic that might appear together in the dissertation titles in our database (e.g., "Nursing Burnout"). A keyword can also be numeric ("1990") or alphanumeric ("B12"). Only dissertation titles containing all the words you list on a single line can be retrieved.

2 To avoid having to list all possible word endings for a keyword, simply write the root word and an asterisk. One or more complete words must follow the root word on the same line (e.g., "Nurs*, Burnout" would search for words such as "nurse, nurses, and nursing" which appear in the same titles as "burnout").

3 Use the other lines for synonyms and alternate words and spellings (e.g., "RN; LPN; BSN").

4 Modify words likely to appear in hundreds of titles with more specific words.

5 If appropriate, use the right-hand column to list keywords that exclude data you don't want. (e.g., "Nurs", "Home" and "Nurs", "Homes" would exclude titles relating to nursing homes or home nursing. Note that the computer recognizes no word order.)

SUBJECT CATEGORIES (optional) Each citation title is listed in UMI's dissertation database in a subject category chosen by the author. On the opposite page is a complete listing of subject categories and codes. List the categories (and codes) most relevant to your research topic.

CODE	CATEGORY

DEGREE DATES (optional) You may narrow the database search to certain years or time periods (e.g., "1980 through 1983"). This is especially recommended for broad categories such as "Education, Administrative", for which nearly 1,200 titles are added each year.

_____

INSTITUTIONS AWARDING DEGREES (optional) You may restrict the search to dissertations and master's theses prepared for specific institutions (e.g., "New York University and UCLA").
