

ProQuest are pleased to offer these two key online resources for the study of medieval and church history: Acta Sanctorum and Patrologia Latina.

Acta Sanctorum

The Acta Sanctorum are a principal source for research into the societies and cultures of early Christian and medieval Europe. Our knowledge of this period relies heavily on hagiographical literature, and specifically on this monumental collection of texts, published over a period of 300 years by the Societe des Bollandistes. The Acta Sanctorum database makes this vast body of material available in electronic form. It contains the complete texts of the 68 printed volumes.

NOW CROSS-SEARCHABLE

Customers of the two medieval databases, Patrologia Latina and Acta Sanctorum are able to search across both databases simultaneously.

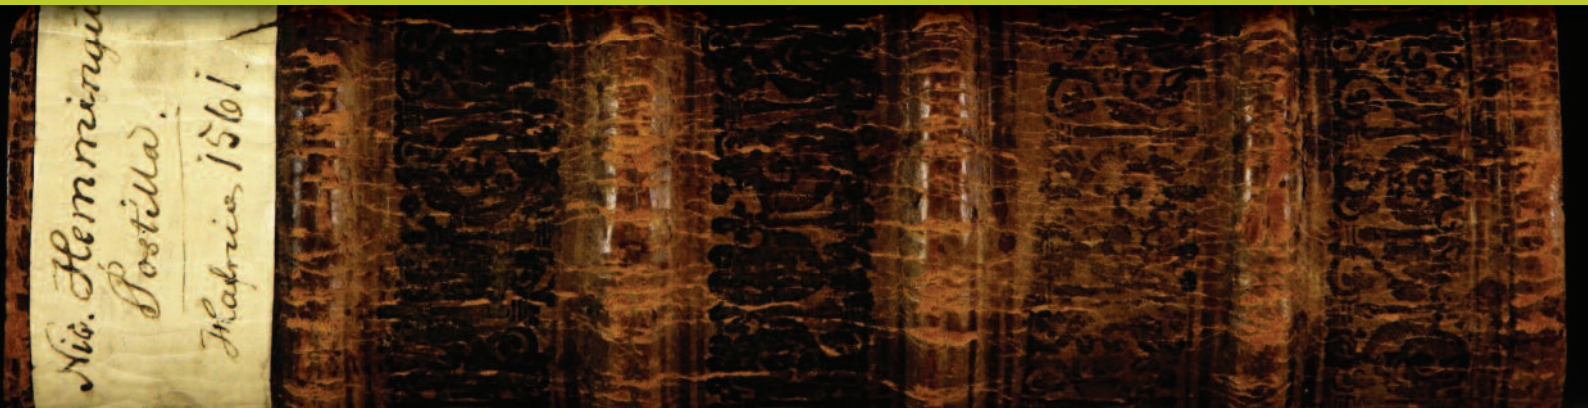

The combined resources of these databases offer scholars unprecedented opportunities to further their research in early European social history and the development of Christianity, from the foundation of the Church to the Reformation.

Patrologia Latina

Patrologia Latina database is the full-text electronic version of the Patrologia Latina. No single collection of western philosophical and theological writings is comparable to the Patrologiae Cursus Completus, the extraordinary achievement of the 19th century scholar and priest, Jacques-Paul Migne.

TYPVS DELIQVII LVNAR

Brill's Mediae Latinitatis Lexicon Minus

For customers of both Acta Sanctorum and Patrologia Latina resources using the cross-searchable facility, we have also digitised Brill's Mediae Latinitatis Lexicon Minus, which is the only electronic edition of this resource. Jan Frederik Niermeyer's Mediae Latinitatis Lexicon Minus is a practical lexicon for succinct information for the use of all those who are working in the field of medieval history. The dictionary provides French and English translations for every entry of a Medieval Latin concept. All entries are contextualised with relevant text passages.

Early Books Online

Tracing the origins and development of western culture

Copernicus, Erasmus, Galileo, Luther Malory, Spenser, and Spinoza are just some of the influential writers included in ProQuest's online collections of printed sources from the early modern period. Together, Early English Books Online and Early European Books offer digitized versions of thousands of rare and prestigious texts, providing a fascinating reconstruction of the early modern period in Britain and continental Europe and opening up new avenues for research in multiple academic fields.
